Brebner beauties shine

August was indeed Women's Month at Brebner and the future is indeed female if these three ladies have anything to do with it.

Khanyisa Nomyayi (grade 11), Zandile Masia (grade 10) and Tatum Macalagh (grade 9) from ACE Models and eModels respectively, have reason to smile even bigger than before.

Nomyayi (17) entered the Miss Secondary Schools SA Pageant held on 13 April 2018 at the Bloemfontein Civic Theatre and was crowned as Miss Secondary Charity 2018, a special award to acknowledge the most charitable of contestants. She encourages the youth to "believe in yourself, do the best of your ability and never give up, no matter what."

Masia (16) has been chosen SA Teen Ambassador 2018 Semi-finalist on 6 August at the Faircity Quatermain Hotel in Sandton. Masia says, "It is an honour and a privilege to be part of this journey. To me this journey is not just an ordinary journey, it is more of a learning platform and I am very excited to be a part of it."

"I'm the master of my faith and the captain of my soul." These are the words of 14-year-old Macalagh, who is taking the modelling industry by storm." She was selected to be one of the new faces for FanJam Model Management, an international model agency.

We are extremely proud of these ladies!

Golden feet in Dubai

After being selected for an international competing team, a group of Brebner boys took part in the Dubai Super Cup 2018 Soccer Tournament from 3 to 6 April in the United Arab Emirates.

The outstanding performance of Naledi Ragoleli, Karabo Motshabi, Lebohang Mahabane, Molefi Molibola, Thamasanqa Ndiwa and Bokang Pulomo has led to them being asked to return for follow up tournament in United Kingdom later this year.

The group has shown that Brebnarians are world class by playing against some of the best youth teams the world has to offer, including Brazil, Nigeria and England. The group played against Galaxy Ronald FC in the semi finals and won 4-3 on penalties. They were set for a nail-biting final against Robbie Fowler Academy and it was a tight call indeed as they lost 2-4 on penalties.

Public speaking goes national

Speakers from Brebner were chosen to be in the semi finals of the South African Literacy Association (SALA) Public Speaking Competition, which consisted of 50 shortlisted speakers from several South African High Schools. The semi-finals were held on 4 August at Southernland High School in Pretoria. The competition is a national competition where high school speakers are invited to submit a five-minute video, speaking about their topic of choice.

Every year thousands of video recordings are submitted to the SALA adjudicators. Brebner was represented by Zimkhitha Macala, Nadia Pillay, Luvuyo Jacobs and Troy Dudha.

The Brebner speakers were recognised for their improvement as they presented the same speech that was in the video. They described the experience as amazing. "South Africa is blessed with brilliant speakers. Congratulations to Troy Dudha for being selected to represent us at the SALA finals to be held on 30 October. We wish him all the best of luck," are the words from Brebner wishing him well.

Thank you for applying

Brebner High School would like to extend its heartfelt appreciation to each parent who has applied for admission to our school in 2019.

The school has received over 1300 applications, which shows the confidence the community has in Brebner High School.

Unfortunately the school can only accept 330 of these applications. According to the school, it really regrets to have to refuse so many excellent applications. "It is our prayer, with the many disappointed parents, that their children will find space in a school where they can receive quality education."

The Department of Education is also keenly aware of the need for more secondary schools offering English Home Language.
